LIQUOR AT HOME ONLY

Law Recently Passed Regulating Shipments Into "Dry" Territory Cuts Out Bottle At Office, Lodge or Fishing Club.

MUST LABEL IT IF IN POCKET OR GRIP.

(Lexington Leader.)

The law passed by the last General Assembly regulating the shipment of liquor into dry territory, has generally been regarded as favorable to the liquor interests of the State. A "Joker," it is claimed, has been discovered in the bill, which makes it one of the most drastic restrictions upon what is popularly termed "personal liberty," ever written into a liquor law.

As originally designed, the bill was to give the State brewers and distillers the same right to ship liquor into "dry" portions of the State as is now enjoyed by manufacturers and wholesale dealers of other States. Heretofore, interstate shipments have been permitted while the State dealer has been barred. The law as written, however, goes much further than its original intent.

Section 4 of the act, which is H. B. 206, reads: In any county, etc., where the sale of liquors is prohibited, "it shall be unlawful for any person to keep, store or possess any such liquors in any room, building or structure, other than the private residence of such person, and which is not used as a place of public resort."

There is a proviso to the section which exempts druggists and common carriers in the act of transporting liquor.

As interpreted by liquor men and lawyers, the law clearly makes it unlawful for a citizen to have any liquor in his possession at any place but his private residence. It means that he cannot keep a bottle at his office, or in a hunting lodge or fishing club. The locker device, by which liquors are kept in the private lockers of members of clubs for their own private and personal refreshment, are entirely unlawful under Section 4, and the unwary traveler who puts a flask in his pocket or grip, is liable to a fine of at least $50, unless there appears upon the outside of the package, the name and address of the consignee and consignee, and the statement that the liquors are for the personal and family use of the consignee.

Under this interpretation of the law, a resident in dry territory may receive liquor shipped to him, at his private residence only, and should it be found in his possession at any other place or under any other circumstances, it is declared a violation of the law and subject to fines of $50 for the first offense, and up to $500 for subsequent offenses.

Not only that, but Section 5, which follows the regulations for shipping and labeling and storing, says: "Liquors consigned, shipped, transported in ANY MANNER, received, held or possessed, contrary to the provisions of this act shall be deemed contraband."

RAINY DAYS

What Do You Do With Them—100 Rainy Days In The Year.

In Ohio there are about 100 rainy days in the year. Since the effects of a rainy day are different on the business of farming than on most industries of the town or city, where men work under cover in the shop and in the office, seldom losing a day's time, it may be well to ask the man on the farm how he spends his rainy days. Think of it, they make up almost one-third of the entire year. If they are thrown away it means a great loss of time and money. Farming is a business. Business cannot run smooth with a loss of one-third of the time. There are many things a farmer can do on rainy days to improve his farm and home. He can grease harness, get machinery ready for the spring and summer work, select and clean seed for planting, straighten up the farm books, sharpen tools, repair doors, gates, feed troughs and buildings, put some conveniences in the home for the housewife, inspect water gaps, count the stock, cut weeds, improve and clean the poultry quarters, write letters that may need answering, and make the farm invoice. The farm invoice is most important and should be made at least once a year, as it is necessary in calculating the profits and labor income from the farm operations.

THE STARS AND STRIPES IN MEXICO.

Juarez, Mexico, Mar. 30.—When Venustiano Carranza, first chief of the revolution, entered this city yesterday the American flag was carried by the side of the Mexican emblem. Americans in the crowd cheered and were joined in some extent by the native spectators. This incident came as a surprise to the crowd. General Carranza, on foot, had passed, and behind came a troop of his soldiers. As they entered the main street only the Mexican flag was visible, but at that moment the Stars and Stripes were suddenly unfurled, and the two emblems were carried through the streets to the Juarez monument.
